

CLAIM:

We claim

1. In a protective pedicure covering for the pedicure toes of the foot: the said protective covering comprise as a cladding for encompassing toes of a foot user, and lining surrounding inside the cladding device for protective covering of said toes of a foot user. Wherein said lining surrounding inside of the cladding closure, is a material (cellophane) plastic such as vinylidene chloride polymer, filled with liquid (light weight oil), said lining surrounding the inside of said cladding sealed by adjoining the lining surrounding within the cladding cover, holding in the said liquid within the said lining surrounding the inside of the cladding cover. Said cladding cover material that hold liquid without leakage, with said cladding cover rim to encompass tab enclosure for attaching and encircling of the toes of a foot to fit.
2. The protective pedicure cover of claim 1, wherein said cladding protective cover pedicure toes encircling a tight fit around up to cover 1  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch past the base of the toes.
3. The protective pedicure cover of claim 1, wherein said lining surrounding inside the cladding devise creating an sealed interior layer.
4. The protective pedicure cover of claim 1, said material used for said lining and said cladding, said material such as vinylidene chloride polymer or of type, to hold said liquid inside the said sealed interior surrounding inside the cladding with no leakage.
5. The protective pedicure cover of claim 1 said cladding protective cover closure edge strip encompass type adhesive tab enclosure for securing, attaching and encircling of the toes of a pedicure foot to fit.